TRAVEL ASSOCIATION "WON'T PLAY"

OBJECTS TO "UNFRIENDLY CRITICISM"

INSOLENCE AND PETTINESS IN OFFICIAL LETTER

Attitude Of The "Daily Press"

Under the date of September 12, the following letter was received by Lt. Col. H. L. Murrow, D. S. O., General Manager of the "Hong Kong Daily Press"—

Dear Sir,
At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Hong Kong Travel Association held yesterday, the subject of the continuation of the arrangement made with you for the supply of 50 copies of the "Hong Kong Weekly Press" was reviewed.
It was the decision of the meeting that, having regard to the distinctly unfriendly criticism of the Association's Handbook which appeared in the issue of the "Hong Kong Daily Press" under date of September 1, and the reprint thereof which appears in the current issue of the "Hong Kong Weekly Press," the arrangement be discontinued forthwith and the 50 copies of the last named publication be returned to you.

Yours faithfully,
The Hong Kong Travel Association,
(Sgd.) K. BAGDON,
Secretary.

Apart altogether from the fact that this letter was typed on flaming-bomb note-paper that would almost harmonise with the publicity ideas of an obscure booking-agent for a third rate vaudeville turn, the sentiment expressed can only be interpreted as a very gauche and unworthy attempt to "discipline" a newspaper which has shown that it is directed by those who have enough courage to criticise constructively where such criticism is pertinent.
Further, this communication from the Hong Kong Travel Association constitutes a particularly nauseating attitude towards the Press generally. The fact that the "Daily Press" has been selected as the target for these darts of insolence and pettiness is beside the point. The letter simply reeks of the most abysmal snobbery and patronage as the official attitude of an organisation which, whilst appealing for public support, resents public criticism.
Let it be clearly understood, the "Daily Press" does not regard the Hong Kong Travel Association as sacrosanct, and if a publicity body is fearful of the limelight of publicity then that body is, to state the position very mildly, guilty of a fraud against itself.

FREE PUBLICITY
Since the Travel Association commenced to function (?) every possible measure of free publicity has been granted to it by the "Daily Press" and as an earnest of this generous attitude it is well to remember that every week the entire front page cover of the "Hong Kong Weekly Press" contains an advertisement for the Hong Kong Travel Association for which no fee has ever been paid. It is also fair to state that no fee has ever been asked.

As the "Hong Kong Weekly Press" circulates mainly overseas where the Travel Association's publicity is practically negligible, the value of this form of free publicity will be appreciated more fully by those who subscribe to the "tunes of the Travel Association" than by those who direct its policy.

It has been decided to "continue to devote the front page cover of this weekly publication, as formerly, to advertising Hong Kong, but the name and address of the Travel Association will be omitted from the advertisement, and, in future, people overseas who may elect to apply for general information about travel facilities etc., can do so by communicating direct with the "Hong Kong Daily Press." That, at least, should simplify and expedite matters.

A POLICY POINT
Whilst appreciating the fact that circumstances often make people and organisations resentful of criticism, it should not always blind them to the sentiment enshrined in an old Arabic proverb, to wit, "The camel driver has his thoughts—so has the camel."

When the letter quoted above was received on Saturday, the Editor of this paper communicated with the secretary of the Travel Association, and this conversation ensued:—

Editor: Mr. Bagdon, as secretary of the Association I want you to answer me officially on a matter pertaining to the Handbook.

Mr. Bagdon: You had better communicate with the chairman, Mr. Carrie.

Editor: It would be well if you listened to my question. Here it is:—When it was decided to publish the official Handbook, was the printing of the Handbook offered for public tender?

Mr. Bagdon: Well, there were enterprising printers who heard that the Handbook was to be printed, and they came to us.

Editor: That does not answer my question. Do I take it that the printing of the Handbook was NOT offered for public tender?

Mr. Bagdon (after a pause): That is correct.

Editor: So, only enterprising printers who were "in the know" had the opportunity of submitting prices?

No reply.

Editor: Do you wish to offer any explanation, because I shall publish that fact?

Mr. Bagdon said he had nothing further to add.

It is felt that further comment on this sort of policy would be superfluous.

A SUGGESTION
It has been admitted that not one single member of the Board of Directors of the Hong Kong Travel Association poses as an expert on publicity. It will not be contended that the executive officer of the Association, Mr. Bagdon, the secretary, is either a practised tourist administrator or publicity manager. In Hong Kong there are those who, in an atmosphere of the keenest competition have earned their living as adroit exponents of publicity. Is it too late to suggest that they might be invited to confer with the "Directors" of the Travel Association in a conscientious and altruistic effort to facilitate the work of an organisation which is obviously very much in need of expert advice?

HISTORY IN THE MAKING

Opening Of New Central British School

To-Day's Ceremony

History will be made this afternoon when His Excellency the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott, with the turn of a key in the main door will officially open the new Central British School in Argyle Street. The occasion will be the most important in the annals of Kowloon and will mark the realisation of a dream that has at long last come true. Planned to comply with the latest rules and regulations of the Board of Education, England, the new building is a magnificent structure, admirably situated, and commanding a splendid view.

Unlike the old school in Nathan Road it is away from the noise or traffic and what is perhaps the more important factor there will be a definite change from the stifling town air. The old school has for the past few years outgrown its usefulness. The staff and students have laboured under cramped conditions. Yet the work has been carried on satisfactorily. On May 14, last year, the former Governor, Sir William Peel, laid the foundation stone of the new building.

The Headmaster, Staff and pupils of the Central British School can justly feel proud of their new home and one has every confidence that the present generation of pupils will maintain the high traditions set by their predecessors.

With the opening of the new school to-day, Colony education will be filling in a new page in its history—a page that will stand as a lasting impression for many years to come.

Former pupils who have taken their places in different walks in life, those who are still present in the Colony and those who are in other parts of the world, rejoice with the Headmaster, Staff and students on this auspicious occasion and join wholeheartedly in wishing the dear old School every success and prosperity in the future. It is perhaps with no small measure of envy that the former pupils look on the young-ster who are to enjoy the benefits of this splendid building.

Colony Budget

Losses In Opium And Land Sales

CAR LICENCE FEES INCREASE?

Heavy losses in the Opium and Land Sales revenues will be revealed by the Hon. Colonial Secretary at the Legislative Council on Wednesday, when he will introduce the Budget for 1936-37. These losses are mainly due to the slump in the Hong Kong dollar.

When it is considered that between 1930 and 1935 the loss in Opium revenue has reached some $2,500,000, while a similar drop has been experienced in Land Sales revenue, one anticipates that this year's budget will see a deficit which will approximate to the record deficit of 1925, which was $5,022,452.

The estimates for the current year were budgeted on a dollar of 1/8, and it is expected that the budget for 1937 will be based on a dollar of 1/32.

Opium revenue reached the record figure of $9,888,622 in 1918, but to-day it stands at $200,000.

In view of these serious losses, it is anticipated that import duties on liquors, motor spirits, perfumes, and tobacco or on locally manufactured liquor will be increased, higher duties for motor spirits appearing almost a certainty. Licence fees for motor cars and driving licences may also be increased, while an additional five cents increase in duty on motor spirit may probably result.

"The German people to live in better housing conditions and various State benefits."

An

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after most of my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."
(Signed) Dr. H. G. —, M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

THE English doctor is the most conservative medical man in the world, and when he not only recommends but personally uses a remedy there can be no more convincing proof of its efficacy. This doctor is but one of many who constantly advise the use of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in all cases of indigestion. Most stomach trouble is caused by acidity, and the reason why 'Bisurated' Magnesia gives quick relief is that it instantly neutralizes excess acid and soothes, heals and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining. Nothing could be simpler, safer or surer. If you suffer with indigestion or stomach disorder of any kind put your faith in European science and make an end of your troubles by taking 'Bisurated' Magnesia after eating or whenever pain is felt.

NATION LISTENS TO LEADER

Hitler's Warning
To Enemies

Nuremberg, Sept. 12.
Considerably more than 100,000 "political" officers of the German nation as the Fuehrer himself, at the Party Rally 1935, had designated the Corps of the political leaders—his faithful comrades in the years of the fight for power that ended in the acceptance of the ideals of national socialism by the whole German people—were assembled on the "Zeppelin" Wiese on Friday night to hear the Fuehrer's message of exhortation for the efforts of the coming year.

Twenty-five thousand flags from all parts of the Reich were borne by delegates from the remotest corners of the country. Adolf Hitler, vociferously applauded, appeared sharp at 8.30, passing through an open passage amidst this gigantic throng, and after listening to a greeting by Dr. Robert Ley, Head of the Political Leaders, which began with the words "My Fuehrer, you alone have saved Germany".

PROGRESS EVERY YEAR

Adolf Hitler said:
"We meet here for the fourth time. The miracle of the resurrection of our deeply humiliated and grievously threatened people has been accomplished. To-day the nation again stands on its feet, erect in body and heart."

"Every year we have been able to look back on a year of work, also a year of success. Last year the clouds of hostile disapproval lay over the fatherland. To-day the nation knows that the time of internal tensions is just as completely gone as the period of threats from abroad. To-day the German people march in an ordered column, beneath and behind its standardbearers. But in the urgency of the tasks that wait to be performed, it is all too easy to-day to lose sight of what has already been accomplished."

"Our people have again become proud of its destiny, has found the way back to its honours. This miracle has not been a gift of heaven to those unworthy of it. No people has ever made greater sacrifices, or made them more willingly for the sake of its resurrection, as the German people. We have fought for the souls of millions of workers, peasants, and citizens, and fought as one only fights for a treasure of unestimable worth. If this has ended in success, it is not because I was your Fuehrer, but because you have been my followers. I do not see each one of you individually, and not every one of you sees me, but I feel your comradeship, and you feel mine. We are now one. Faith in our destiny has made us small people great, us disconsolate courageous, us groping ones clairvoyants. Who can be prouder of his followers than he who knows that they were moved by nothing but purest idealism."

COMMUNISM CRUSHED

"In the struggle for our common ideal we have become strong, great and finally victorious. Should any of our old antagonists and enemies ever dare to attack us, they will learn the might of our fist. We know these opponents. We have defeated and crushed them. Never again will Communism dare to raise its head in Germany, never again will this venom be injected into our people. We have never breathed any other prayer than 'Lord give our people unity, and maintain peace with other peoples'. We have been through so much struggle that we want peace with every fibre of our being."

"We want to work and build, but according to our own plan and not that of Bolshevik Judalism. We want to work for the future, of our children, to make life one day easier for them. We have only one prayer to gracious providence: 'Spare our children what we went through!' We have not hesitated to sacrifice our peace in order to eradicate those who wanted to destroy peace. And they must never imagine, that this movement that they now know, will ever grow old. We are as young as ever. After us a new youth is already on the march. A new Fuehrer generation is already growing up. It consists of men. To be a national Socialist means to be a man, fighter, brave, courageous and ready for sacrifices. And that is what we are for all future time."

EXHORTATION TO YOUTH

"I see before me the never ending columns of flags of our new Reich. I can say to you prophetically, this Reich has only just lived through the first days of its youth. It will continue to grow into centuries. It is strong and powerful."

WHAT JAPAN'S ARMY WILL COST

Yen 820,000,000 To Be Asked In Budget

Almost two months after other ministries, including the Navy, finished submitting their draft estimates to the Ministry of Finance, the Japanese Army on Sept. 8 let it be known that it would require Yen 820,000,000 to carry on its activities during the next fiscal year.

They figures were not officially announced but quietly allowed to reach print together with comment by Army circles that they represented the result of a "painstaking elimination of superfluous sums." This was interpreted by observers as signifying that the Army would not tolerate its estimates being reduced.

Provision is understood to be made for a strengthening of the air force, an all-around improvement of material and replenishment of stores and ammunition at home and the increase of forces stationed in Manchoukuo. Equipment on land and in the air is also to be improved and supplies increased in Manchuria.

Basic expenditures are roughly put at Yen 336,000,000 at home and Yen 163,000,000 in Manchuria. This applies mostly the maintenance of existing units.

I greet the standard bearers of a new epoch. I thank you all for the loyalty and faith you have given me all the long years. I greet in you the hope of the present and the guarantee of the future. I greet the youth here assembled. Be men. Fight as we have fought. Be steadfast and determined. Do your duty as those before you have done theirs. Then God will never desert us! Hell Germany!"

The 120,000 listeners were gripped by the Fuehrer's words and burst into shouts of "Heil Heil!" and then spontaneously sang "Deutschland, Deutschland ueber alles" and the "Horst Wessel Hymn", whereupon the meeting slowly dispersed to the strains of the Fuehrer's favourite marching tune "Badenweiler March".

HORRORS OF NEXT WAR

Incendiary Bombs On Cities

AMERICAN INVENTOR'S FORECAST

A man who knows secrets relating to inventions which, it is stated, could wipe out whole cities, is now in London.

He is acquainted with all the latest developments in modern scientific methods of warfare—and loathes the very thought of war.

Mr. William Dubilier, the famous American inventor, denied in an interview with a reporter recently that he is visiting this country to negotiate the sale to the British Government of a new scientific weapon of defence.

"There is no truth," he said, "in a report that the purchase of this invention has been negotiated through German industrialists."

DETECTING SHIPS AND PLANES

Mr. Dubilier, who was apprenticed in his youth to Marconi and who is the inventor of the submarine detector device used by the Allies during the war, described a device by which battleships or aeroplanes outside the range of sound or hearing can be detected and located with exact precision.

"It is absolutely untrue that I am here to negotiate the sale of this invention to the British defence chiefs," he said. "It is simply an instrument based on a principle which has been known to and utilised by astronomers for years."

"If a man were to light a match on a hill five miles away I could locate his exact position from the heat of the match with the aid of this instrument," he declared. "It is a simple but extremely sensitive device which operates by means of infra-red rays."

The most damaging of all modern weapons, Dubilier considers, is the thermite bomb, which is much smaller and yet more destructive than the types of bomb which were carried by aircraft during the Great War.

"All the great Powers have millions of these bombs ready," he said. "One Hundred of them, dropped on a city would be sufficient to ensure its complete destruction. They are not explosive but incendiary, and 100 would start 10,000 fires."

The horror of another war, asserted Mr. Dubilier, would be indescribable.

"AMAZED AND DISGUSTED"
Mr. Dubilier declared that he was amazed and disgusted at the state of Europe and its warlike preparations, and deplored the fact that the inventions of scientists should be used for destructive ends.

"It is no use blaming the scientists," he said. "All their devices are capable of being used for beneficent and peaceful purposes. Indeed, all these loathsome methods of destruction are based on inventions evolved to assist in the peaceful progress of mankind."

"It is an outrageous thing that war should be so much in the air to-day. Propaganda by profit-making interests is largely responsible. There should be no profit derived from slaughter, and I think that the nationalisation of the arms industry might be very beneficial."

"Those who seek to create war should be sent into the front line to fight it out themselves."

POISON GAS IN WARFARE

Conference Discussion

Hendaye, Sept. 11.

The question whether the Nationalist Government in Burgos is to be warned not to use poison gas was discussed at a conference in St. Jean de Luz, when the British Ambassador had suggested such a step. The view of the Swedish Socialist Senator, Brantings, assertion that the Nationalists intend to use poison gas against the loyalists, was considered, but was not admissible as evidence.

It was likewise decided to refrain from taking any step in connection with the execution of hostages, since this might be taken as an unfriendly act, and not be in keeping with the neutrality agreement.

"SHOW BOAT"

Irene Dunne is splendid in Universal's "Show Boat," showing to-day at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres. With Allan Jones she sings a number of tuneful duets. Irene Dunne proves in "Show Boat" that she could make a dramatic scene throb with dynamic force.

Paul Robeson's singing is marvellous, his rendering of "Ole Man River" being the best.

Charles Winstinger, as Captain Hanks, more than repeats his success on the stage while Helen Westley, as his wife, is perfectly suited to the role.

Helen Morgan, Queenie Smith and Donald Cook give excellent support.

On the whole "Show Boat" is grand entertainment directed by James Whale who was responsible for such outstanding successes as "The Invisible Man" and "Journey's End."

"BIG BROWN EYES"

Some like romance—some like thrills—some like comedy—and "Big Brown Eyes," which opened yesterday at the Star Theatre, with Joan Bennett and Cary Grant sharing leading roles, will please 'em all, because it's got everything!

Romance? With lovely blonde Joan Bennett making the most luscious armful big, handsome Cary Grant ever had! Thrills? With a wide-awake, quick-thinking manicurist and her cop sweetheart smashing through crooks' defenses to bring baby-killers and gangsters to justice? Comedy? With a wide-awake blonde, who sees all and knows all, spilling all the dirt in her own private gossip column!

Joan breaks up with Grant when she thinks, wrongly, that he's fallen for another woman, and quits her manuring job to go to work for a newspaper columnist. She gets a "hunch" that a mysterious

WHEN THE IRON IN THE DUKE MELTED!

Wellington Highly Characterised
ANOTHER PORTRAIT TO GEORGE ARLISS

BY Bill Play

"If Wellington could have seen Mr. George Arliss in the "Iron Duke," which commenced a season at the King's Theatre yesterday, he might probably have given the famous command, (amended) "Up Guards, and at him!"

However, he would have issued that dynamic order with the sensation of a smile creasing his very prominent features, because no one could see this highly characterised version of the most important episodes of the life of one of the greatest military commanders the world has ever known, without feeling a certain joy that Mr. Arliss was permitted by his film director to soften a particularly hard tradition which has, from the austere historical angle, encrusted the person and bearing of a famous soldier and a good man.

In a word, the "Iron Duke" is splendid entertainment which is as historically accurate as splendid entertainment will permit.

One recaptures the glamour of a glorious past when dazzling uniforms characterised the defenders of the Union Jack as much as chivalry towards a foe.

For many, many years will those who allow themselves the pleasure of seeing this film remember the dramatic scenes leading up to, and during, the inspiring Quatre Bras episode, and no less vivid will be their recollection of the superb artistry of Gladys Cooper as Madame, the virtual, if not entirely virtuous, ruler of a time-serving court. The restrained manner in which Gladys Cooper handled temptation scenes can only be referred to as a stimulating example of dramatic art.

But it will be Arliss as the Duke whom everyone will concentrate upon as the pivot of dramatic action. His emotion after the battle of Waterloo when the first casualty list is read to him is as fine a piece of acting as could be imagined, and his deliberativeness in the House of Lords scene is notably impressive. At home, with his gracious wife, a beautiful portrayal by Elaine Terriss, the softer side of the Iron Duke is shown in terms of melting sweetness. This man was not all iron, one happily thinks. Home and "the boys" melted him into an intensely human person who readily forgot that he was a personage.

All the supporting characters are well delineated, and the settings for the various phases of the life of Wellington are created with a realistic competency which is decidedly invigorating.

There is no doubt about it, this picture is well worth seeing from both the historical and entertainment angles. Pedants may disagree with my opinion, but it is always well to remember that more money has been made from entertaining than instructing.

Criminal master minds plot his death, deadly cobras strike out with poisonous fangs, and foaming gorillas rage at his back, but Warner Oland as the famous Chinese detective calmly and silently unravels one of the most baffling mysteries of his entire career in the Fox picture "Charlie Chan at the Circus" which is now showing at the Majestic Theatre.

It is Chan's task in the new picture to track down a mysterious killer, who after having committed one murder, returns time and again to the scene of the crime to silence those who might know his identity. Since the murdered man was owner of a circus and his relations with the performers were none too amiable, every one of the circus people is under suspicion, including the giant gorilla who was out of his cage at the time the crime was committed.

Prominent in the supporting cast are Kepe Luke, who portrays Chan's son, Francis Ford, Maxine Reimer, John McGuire, Shirley Deane, Paul Stanton and J. Carroll Nash.

THEY DANCED TO ROUNDS OF APPLAUSE

Interlude At Hong Kong Hotel

PAT SYKES AND J. A. ANDREW

They arrived from London on Saturday—Miss Pat Sykes, holder of the World's Dancing Championship, and her adroit partner, Mr. J. A. Andrew.

Not a thought of "performing," but the music in the crowded Gipsies' fascinated them. They danced in the crowd. But how they danced!

Alert to seize every opportunity, the dashing Manager of the Hong Kong Hotel lost not a moment in suggesting that an impromptu interlude in the form of an exhibition dance would be greatly appreciated.

So, without rehearsal, Pat Sykes and her partner took the floor and danced to rounds and rounds of applause.

Result—they have been engaged to appear in cabaret at the Hong Kong Hotel for a limited season commencing on Saturday night, and during the day they will give private instruction in the great variety of latest steps.

Their first appearance on Saturday will feature the "Skater's Waltz," which was originated by Pat Sykes herself.

It's a long step from studying under Pavlova to the cabaret of the Hong Kong Hotel, but as little more than a child, charming Pat Sykes received instructions from the immortal exponent of innumerable glorious ballets.

This is the first visit Miss Sykes has made to the East, but her partner, Mr. Andrew knows this part of the world well.

They should prove yet another "winner" for the management of the Hong Kong Hotel.

finger on the criminals, and forces them to stand trial, but through police pull, they get off.

Joan Bennett is as lovely as ever—Cary Grant is magnificent, and the balance of the cast, under the able direction of Raoul Walsh, turns in a memorable performance.

CAST-STONE FINISHES

The growing use of cast concrete in situations exposed to view has compelled attention to the nature of the finished surface to prevent unsightliness. To clarify the position, therefore, The Cast Concrete Products Association Limited, 20, Dartmouth-street, London, W.1, have issued, in an appendix to its specification for cast or reconstructed stone, a classification of finishes, and have followed it up by depositing samples of the three main classifications for exhibition at the Building Centre, 158, New Bond-street, W.1. The first of these classifications consists of plain cast stone, that is, the product as it leaves the mould. The second shows how, by treating the concrete in an immature state, surfaces resembling hand-wrought stone may be produced, e.g., with diagonal or vertical tool marks or a matt finish. The third class is actually worked upon, after the concrete has reached maturity, by hand or machine so that the surface is still more realistic. Here again the tooling, &c., used in mason's work is reproduced; for example, boasted work, that is finished with a broad chisel used transversely; tooled work, finished with a narrow-pointed chisel used longitudinally; bush-hammered, giving a rough surface; rubbed or smooth work, &c. The examples show how a good and permanent finish may be obtained without resort to the objectionable practice of applying a slurry or filling of cement and fine aggregate to the cast stone with consequent liability to flake off from frost etc.

JAMES "SWENSON"

"SPOT LIGHT" GOLF

Amazing New Invention For Golfing Enthusiasts

18 HOLES PLAYABLE INDOORS

(BY "8 HANDICAP")

Commencing to-day, enthusiasts of the Royal and Ancient game will be able to play 18 holes of golf indoors—drive a corker 230 yards down the fairway, pitch with a mashie niblick to within three feet of the pin and sink a putt for a "birdie!"

This indoor "course" for the devotees of golf will be housed at Messrs. Lane Crawford, Ltd., Sports Department. The dimensions of the course are no larger than 20 by 20 feet, yet every shot conceivable in an ordinary round at either Fauling, Sheung Shui or Kowloon, will be possible to play in this limited space.

How?—with "Spot Light" golf—a contraption—I use the word re-versely—which will be making its debut in the Colony to-day, after phenomenal success at home and overseas. In order that the mysteries of "Spot Light" golf may be sampled by Lane Crawford's many customers, certain alterations in the store have had to be effected over the week-end. The Sports Department has been moved to the space formerly occupied by the Toys Department and "Spot Light" golf has been tucked away in a convenient spot in the rear of the department. There golfers may sample the mysteries of "Spot Light" golf in comparative seclusion.

The English makers of "Spot Light" golf state confidently of this invention: It is safe to say that never until now has anything been invented which can so accurately represent and give you the pleasures of the Royal and Ancient game of golf.

GAME DESCRIBED

"Spot Light" golf to describe it briefly, composes of a cabinet on which a fairway, heavily bunkered, etc., is illuminated. A scale registers the flight of the ball.
The ball is attached by means of a cord to a motor "detector box" (at the rear of the golfer) which in turn is connected by a wire to the cabinet.

The golfer drives the ball which cannot possibly become detached or rebound and hit you, into a net with a direction mark, similarly as one would play to the pin on a golf course.

Smack! Sounded alright, but I thought I put too much right hand in the shot, causing the shot, to flow from the inside to out.
There goes the pointer—150—160
—170 yards.

I must have been wrong, that's a fairish drive. No! I was right.
Here's the white "spot light" (on the surface of the cabinet) indicating the position of my shot.
Bad luck!

Pulled a little and lying un-comfortably right under the lip of a five feet deep bunker!

I take a No. 3 iron (I have still 150 yards to make for the green).
Whack! Ah, I thought so—not enough loft, the pointer does not move and here's the "spot light"
again.

"I'm still in the bunker.
I take a mashie. Smack! A good shot, the pointer mounts steadily.
What a lovely shot! Right into the inner circle indicating that I'm not more than two feet from the pin!

Now I'm going to hole out in quite the usual manner. The circles on the green indicate how far my ball lay from the hole. The ball is accordingly placed on the carpet (to the side and rear of the driving mat). I putt. Jove! sank it for a par 4.

SAME AS REAL GOLF

This will give you a rough idea of "Spot Light" golf. It is difficult to describe "an invention" which has to be seen to be appreciated.

Suffice it to repeat that "Spot Light" golf is the same as real golf on a real course, necessitating the use of every club that each individual golfer is accustomed to using. True, it must be regarded as golf under ideal conditions, as no wind affects the flight of the ball.

For those who like variety, I think I am correct in stating that a round of golf can be played as the players desire, and these courses are reproduced in the characteristics identical with the originals in the cabinet.

As the players finish play on one hole, the next hole is brought into play by a single movement of the roller.

Each roller carries a 9 hole course. On the finish of the course, the map is easily changed either for a second nine holes of the same full course, or for a map of any other course, the time to effect this change being merely a few seconds.

Bernard Darwin, the famous British and International golfer writing of his experiences with "Spot Light" golf, said: There are astonishing people who seem to be able to understand machines;
they would write this story as if it were a matter of fact. I am not one of them. To me this is a story of pure magic and I write it accordingly—I was glad to see a machine which would make possible a game of golf indoors over holes on various famous courses. I answered my companion I fear, with a rather obvious lack of enthusiasm that I had heard the story before, that I had travelled much in the realms of captive balls, that machines that told me how far I had driven had proved to be liars and unfattering liars at that, that this sort of thing was mildly amusing for about two minutes and a bore ever afterwards.

Will it be a Slice or Hook?

AT ST. ANDREW'S

My companion and I now took off our coats and prepared to play the long hole at St. Andrew's.
I hit as nearly as good an old-gentlemanly shot as I could. Now, having no tee and being sorely afraid of topping I took a spoon. I knew that I hit that one and sure enough it went.
I think, 190 yards. Moreover I was not in Hell bunker, having shired cunningly to the left. Now
I had to play a pitch of some 60 yards. If I add that I was unlucky in not holding my putt for four that is a purely personal opinion. At any rate I had done the hole in five just as I should hope to do it in real life if I mad-no mistake. Before I went away
I looked at the inside of the machine. I never understood a musical box, and despite lucid explanations I did not understand this. For my part, I am glad I was stupid; I would rather put down what I saw to sheer, unadulterated magic, and whether he understands it or not, any golfer who sees this portent will exclaim with Sam Weller, "If this don't lick 'cock-fighting' nothing ever will."

Thus those golfers desiring to obtain a new club at L.C.'s, will now be able to get the "feel" of a club (or clubs as the case may be) before they leave the shop.

To those who have played golf, the importance of this aspect of the question will be readily appreciated.

closed meeting for continuation of the discussion begun on Septem-

FAILED TO REGISTER AS ALIEN

Tailor Without Passport

Schombing Leomban, Toroean Mallali, aged 27, a tailor from Sumatra, was charged before Mr.
S. F. Balfour at the Central Police Court on Saturday with entering the Colony on or about April 26 without a valid passport, and committing a breach of the Registration Ordinance in that he failed to register as an alien.

Sub-Inspector W. H. Nolloth stated that the defendant came to Hong Kong from Shanghai. He asked his Worship to take a serious view of the case as the defendant had no excuse whatever. He was a registered alien in Penang and should, therefore, have known the regulations.

Defendant was fined $10 or one week. An expulsion order was made against him.

JAPANESE STOWAWAY

TO BE SENT BACK TO MOJI

Hisao Endo, 19, a student of Akita, Yurigun, Tomamura, was charged before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Police Court on Saturday with stowing away on board the s.s. Terukuni Maru from Moji to Hong Kong.

Det.-Sergt. P. H. Loughlin stated that the defendant had been handed over to the Police on the arrival of the Terukuni Maru. The Police were not taking a serious
view of the case as the defendant was only a youth. They merely wished for the registration of a conviction.

The Japanese Consul was arranging for the repatriation of the defendant.

Defendant was committed to the House of Detention pending his departure.

BERLIN GAMES CONCLUDE

Closing Olympic Ceremony

The eleventh modern Olympiad came to an end on August 16 when the closing ceremony was held with full pomp and circumstance in the great stadium. Herr Hitler and a distinguished party, including King Boris of Bulgaria, occupied the seats of honour.

The ceremony which followed the last of all the events, the prize of the nations in the equestrian sports, marked the close of a for-night of unprecedented spectacles, crowds, and athletic achievement.
Most of the athletes have scattered to the four corners of the earth, but an insatiable enthusiasm remains, an enthusiasm sustained by the finished riding and jumping of a German officer who won a much coveted prize and so added to his country's lead in gold medals at the Games.

TORCH EXTINGUISHED

It was 9 o'clock and the stadium was hushed before the final ceremony was begun. There were no armies of athletes to march past on this occasion, but the flags of the competing nations made an impressive sight.

First there was the speech of Count Baillet-Latour, who offered to the Führer and the German people, the authorities of Berlin and the organizers of the Games
the gratitude of the International Olympic Committee. His final words were: "May the Olympic torch be carried on throughout the ages with ever greater eagerness courage, and honour for the good of humanity." Then came the lowering and carrying away of the official Olympic flag by eight men in white and the delivery of the flag from Los Angeles into the custody of the Mayor of Berlin.

The Olympic flame was extinguished, a minute's silence was observed, and there came a ghostly call to Tokyo from a voice in the darkness.

THE FINAL RANKING

In the final ranking of the nations Germany leads with 33 gold medals to her credit, the United States being second with 24. Hungary (10) is third, and there follow
Italy (eight), Finland and France (seven each), Sweden, Japan, and

LOITERER FOUND IN CITY OFFICE

TELLS MAGISTRATE
A THIN STORY

Telling a story that savoured of an extract from one of the plots of P. G. Wodehouse, Fung Fat Choi, aged 30, in defence of the charge of loitering on the premises of Messrs. Goddard and Douglas office, Alexandra Building, first floor, stated before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Police Court on Saturday that he went to the floor to see one of the Chinese employees. He took refuge in one of the offices and was twice prevented from leaving by the entrance of two people. He was finally locked therein. He was hiding in the lavatory.

Captain Sundred, Marine surveyor, was the complainant.

Det.-Sergt. D. Mann stated that about 8 p.m. on Thursday, all the employees of Messrs. Goddard and Douglas had left the premises.
The office boy went to the office room and noticed the door was open. He went upstairs for his dinner and returned to the office again. This time the door was closed. He tried to open the door but could not. Thinking that something had gone wrong with the Yale lock, he sent for a lock-smith. The latter discovered that the door was locked on the inside.

The office boy went to the window and looking in saw the defendant crouching behind the desk.
It appeared as though he had been locked in. Defendant was formerly a clerk at the office.

Defendant gave evidence. The stenographer first prevented his leaving the room, and then the return of Captain Sundred stopped him the second time. The office boy came into the room but left again.

After waiting for a while, witness was about to leave when the boy returned.

Defendant was committed and sentenced to three months' hard labour.

Defendant was charged with failing to pay wages to a registered mul-tai, named Wong Loi Sing, aged 19.

the defendant and said that the defendant should be dealt with departmentally. The false testimony was such that the specific words used were not material to the charge against defendant against whom Channon Singh appeared as complainant.

The charge was withdrawn.
Inspector M. H. Hourhan was for the Police.

CATHEDRAL SERMON

Charity Distinguishes Good Man From The Christian Attitude Towards Sin

Preaching at St. John's Cathedral yesterday morning, the Rev. H.W. Baines stated that which distinguished a good man from the Christian was not moral rectitude but charity, and spoke of the attitude of the Christian individual and the Christian Church towards sin.

"It is not for us to judge, far less to condemn. It is to heal and make whole again," remarked the preacher.

Taking as his text, "And He said unto her, 'Thy sins are forgiven.'" (St. Luke, Chap. 7, v. 48) the preacher said:—

People often ask whether there is any difference between a good man and a Christian. That which distinguishes a good man from the Christian is not moral rectitude but charity. Mere rectitude is impotent to heal a wounded spirit; to make up a quarrel with a friend, to set a man on his feet again when life has nothing more to offer him than the gas-pipe. Only holiness which is loving and love which is holy, that is to say only Christ and Christ's men, can heal. That is the difference between a "good man" and a Christian: the one is impotent and barren the other creative, redemptive, healing.

Consider this story. Jesus has gone in to dine in the house of a friend, a Pharisee, a good man. The stage is set and on it are discovered the two characters of righteousness and holy love. Upon the scene there enters prodigal, painted, extravagant, a notorious woman and she stands before them putting the question of her need. It would be more accurate to say that she stands before the Pharisee and behind Christ as though anticipating the words of Bright "For lo, between our sins and their reward we set the passion of Thy son our Lord."

Righteousness stands before her as her judge and sees in her a sinner, one of those interesting, despicable, hopeless, he knew her, saw through her, condemned her.

The other who had heard no word pass her lips but had been sensible only of the lavish offering that she brought Him saw not her nakedness but her need who had not spoken of sin.

PHARISEE'S RIGHTEOUSNESS
The Pharisee's "righteousness" as I see it was defensive, juristic; Christ's was not afraid, it was holy and informed by love. To both of them the extravagance of the woman's action was patent but while to the Pharisee I suspect that it seemed all in keeping with her record to Jesus it seemed like a last desperate bid for decency.

As they both smelt the fragrance of the valuable ointment which she poured from the alabaster cruse I believe that both recognized that what she was now spending was the price that she had once received for her own surrender but whereas the Pharisee thought it wicked and dense of Jesus not to know this woman and her gift for what they were to Christ the woman's latest prodigality told another message. To Him she was not a criminal to be locked up but a prisoner to be loosed.

It is not that Jesus was ignorant of the danger of such women. Our Lord known the havoc that follows such women's lives both among children and among elders in Hong Kong. Was it not He who said about the neck of one and that he should be cast into the sea rather than that he should cause one of God's little ones to stumble. It is not that Jesus was being sentimentally blind and the Pharisee a realistic man of the world. I have no doubt that Simon was in his own acts as righteous as Jesus but his treatment of the woman would have been defeatist whereas Jesus' treatment is always remedial and creative.

STANDARD OF LIFE
Perhaps the Pharisee's attitude is necessary; certainly there must always be courts and police to preserve the health and wealth of society but the Pharisee was not a policeman nor a judge, he was one before whom as before Christ the woman appeared in her need. The Pharisee's attitude in the witness that He gave to the standard of life that God demands is necessary but Christ's attitude is indispensable and it is the attitude of the Christian Church.

I want to leave the particular example of sin and forgiveness with which this story is concerned and to take from it the principle which it contains, the attitude of the Christian individual and the Christian Church towards sin. When an irregularity that it is impossible to condone takes place how are ordinary Christians to behave? Let me give an answer in words which have recently been uttered by the Archbishop of York "I do not think any universal rule can be given; the circumstances in which it can be right for a Christian to withhold friendship on account of some moral lapse must be very few, for to do that will, in most cases, mean letting someone who most needs moral help be left to the society of people unable to provide it. If we have any responsibility for one another's spiritual welfare we cannot as a rule, meet that responsibility by methods of ostracism. There may be some cases where action of that kind will be effective in stimulating conscience for the first time. There will be far more where such action will have the effect of merely making the resisting person resolute in his moral claims. You will merely put his back up."

INDIVIDUAL CHRISTIANS
For us as individual Christians when we are faced by sinful actions by friends or by acquaintances in matters to do with marriage or drink or business morality we have got to do two things which cost a lot. We have got to make plain that our friend's conduct hurts us and that we cannot approve of it; and also that we are still ready to be of any service to him that friendship demands. If you can do that and not be a prig you have advanced some way on your Christian pilgrimage. Remember then that so far as our individual attitude is concerned it is not to wrap ourselves up in swathes of protective conventional cotton-wool nor to disinfect the atmosphere that we breathe from all moral poison which might injure our righteous health. It is that our lives should be so close to Christ's that righteousness and fine living shall be our birth-right, and at the same time that we shall never ignore the claim of anybody in need upon us, to do our best to heal them. It is not for us to judge, far less to condemn, it is to heal and make whole again.

And as concerns the Church collectively, again let me make it clear that it is not a kind of ecclesiastical preserve in which good people gather so as to be safe from extermination; it is the Body of Christ and it lives for the salvation and healing of men and women. It is for that reason that one of its most prominent ministries has been that of reconciliation. And I want here to say plainly that the Sacrament of Penance as it is called, the practice of private confession before a minister of the Church who in Christ's Name pronounces absolution, is an instrument of that ministry which every ordained man is bound by his ordination promises to make available for all who need or wish it. If you are disposed to question that, study the Book of Common Prayer and the history of the Church of England. But the point is not one of Church controversy; that is, or ought to be, dead as the dodo, it is a question of how most effectively God's love can meet human sin.

There are those whose need can be most truly met and whose sin can be most really forgiven by the exercise of the Church's sacrament and if I did not bring this fact to the attention of all of you as well as those who do as those who don't practise confession I should be like a superintendent of a hospital who refused to disclose the whereabouts of Pasteur's serum when a man had been bitten by a rabid dog.

HOLY LOVE
But I should be being a careless physician if I said that and that

KOWLOON WEDDING CEREMONY

PORTUGUESE COUPLE UNITED

The Rosary Church, Kowloon was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday when Miss Linda Mira Marques Ferreira, of Macao, was united in marriage to Mr. Luiz A. Rozario, of Messrs. Gibb, Livingstone and Co., Ltd.

Mr. J. M. da Rocha gave the bride away, and Mr. Joao Ferreira, and Mr. Fildis Rozario, the brother of the bridegroom, were the best men.

The Rev. Father Rossi officiated. Dressed in a charming creation of cream, the bride's wedding gown was further enhanced by a long train of lace, and following in her wake was Miss Betty Rozario, the bridesmaid. Little Miss Mildred Xavier was the flower girl.

A large gathering of friends attended and the Church was tastefully decorated with flowers.

The happy couple are to spend their honeymoon in Canton.

PHONE'S POPULARITY IN CHINA

Special Appreciation Of Long-Distance Service

During the last three years, 63,551 kilometres of Government telephone lines have been installed in China showing an increase of 37,531 kilometres as compared with 1933. The length of the trunk lines is 32,876 kilometres, as against 31,073 kilometres in 1933. That the long-distance telephone has gained tremendous popularity among the Chinese is shown by the fact that the average number of calls during the last three years reached 161,450 per month, while in 1933 the average was only 77,775.

alone for although in my own experience both in making my own confession and in hearing that of other people I have found that there is in the sacrament an eloquent expression of exactly that holy love from God to men of which people I have found that there is in the sacrament an eloquent expression of exactly that holy love from God to men of which our story is an example, yet I know at the same time that for others their need is more readily met informally when two friends talk together. It may be, I think it often will be, that such informal sharing and confession between friend and friend as the Group Movement practice will most often lead to a formal act of confession and absolution in the Church, but the point that I want to make is that whether formally or informally the ministry that Christians individually and as a Church must exercise if they are to be loyal to their Lord is of loving kindness, determined in its hatred of sin and inexorable in the demands that it makes on individuals for the sake of the body but always available and infinitely patient in bringing to every soul the medicine that each one needs in his own sickness to restore him to health and to the joy of salvation.

Brilliant Charity Concert At Club Recreio

JAZZ FEAST DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE

In Aid Of St. Vincent de Paul Society

Over $500 Raised

Jazz music, combining a feast of song, dance, and comedy, thoroughly delighted a large audience at the open-air charity concert at the Club de Recreio Portuguese Amateurs, an extremely versatile troupe, presented "Million-Airs On Parade."

Given under the distinguished patronage of the Right Rev. Henry Valtorta, Vicar Apostolic of Hong Kong, and Dr. Alvaro Brilhante Laborinho, Consul, for Portugal, the proceeds of the entertainment are for the Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

It is learned that over $500 was raised.

Those who remembered the show "Bootleggers on Parade" presented by the same company about two years ago, fully expected another performance just as bright last night and their expectations were justifiably met. "Million-Airs On Parade" is exceptionally good entertainment with the entire troupe fully deserving of the highest praise.

M. P. dos Remedios, the producer, and Fred Abraham, the director, are to be heartily congratulated on the success of their efforts. To Art Carneiro, who directed the music, full praise is also due.

"GREETINGS IN RHYTHM"

The programme opened with a bright overture number played by the "Million-Airs" jazz orchestra and then came "Greetings in Rhythm" which introduced Irene Sousa, Betty Tavares, Nena Gardner and Betty Marques to the stage.

"Top Hat, White Tie and Tails" featured Irene Tavares and chorus and the number was very well received.

Following this Ozo and his Boy Friends, well-known ZBW entertainers, played jazz selections with vocal refrain from the tuneful throat of Doreen Ma, popular local radio artist, singing a la Ginger Rogers.

"Poema" a pretty tango number executed by Betty Tavares and chorus, was followed by "Santa Lucia" a tarce in which the players were Tony Silva, Miguel Franco and Noel Barretto. The number brought forth sustained laughter from the audience the antics and frolics of Silva, Franco and Barretto being comical in the extreme.

Following pleasing acrobatic selections played by Art Carneiro and Hawaiian selections by the Moana Beach Boys with Agnes Rocha (hula-hula dancer) the stage was occupied by Fred Abraham, Chapelle Lawrence and the "Hot-Cha-Cha Babies" (actually a male beauty chorus in disguise) who were featured in a number entitled "The Music Goes Round and Round" ("Les Bootleggers" a la mode) with the music of the popular jazz melody as a basis for the act. The number was exceptionally good and received hearty applause from a delighted audience.

TAVARES SISTERS

After the interval, the "Million-Airs" jazz orchestra furnished an overture to commence the second half of the evening's entertainment.

The Tavares Sisters harmonised splendidly in their jazz number "I've Got My Fingers Crossed" and sang after the manner of the famous Boswell Sisters.

The next item introduced Gus d'Aquino, well-known local concert and radio singer. He sang "When It's Twilight on the Trail," among other melodies and received much applause.

"No Strings", one of the popular numbers from the popular film, "Top Hat", featuring Vergie Yanovich, Fred Abraham and Chapelle Lawrence, was a very good tap dance number skilfully executed by the artists.

Not having quite recovered from the laughing episode caused in the first half of the entertainment, the audience laughed even more heartily when Tony Silva and Willie Osborne took the stage with "Arabian Dance", a farce. The "Million-Airs" Rhythm Boys delighted with instrumental selec-

JAPANESE AIR FORCE

The decision to allot the next Olympic Games to Japan has had one amusing effect in the Far East. Optimists who have heard of the "Olympic pause" in Europe are saying that perhaps the war will be postponed until 1941, though others fear that there may be time for a little one between now and then. Certainly the Japanese militarists are taking no chances.
Their latest enterprise is the creation of what may almost be described as an independent Air Force. Hitherto all Japanese military aviation has been tied to the regular army. Each division has had its own squadron of aeroplanes, designed to serve as an auxiliary to the land forces and doing little more than scouting from the air.

Now these separate air squadrons are to be united into an Air Corps under a central command which, though still part of the army, will have considerable power and independence. This is said to be the initial step towards the creation of a separate Air Force on the model of the Western Powers. For such a martial and aggressive nation Japan has been curiously slow to develop her air arm. The country, which is mostly rough and mountainous, is unsuited for flying; Japan's technical skill does not at present cover the making of high-quality engines; and it is said (with what truth one does not know) that for physiological reasons the Japanese are not well suited to become pilots.

But Japan is also extremely fearful of air attack from Vladivostok in the event of a war with Russia; she also affects a nervous anxiety concerning the aircraft-carriers in the United States navy. She is therefore determined to build up a first-class "defensive" Air Force—defensive, at least, until it has been built.

THREE NEW BOOKS

By Dorothy Whipple-
P. C. Wren And
James Milne

Dorothy Whipple's famous novel "They Knew Mr. Knight," which deals with North-country business life, was issued by John Murray on August 18 in a Cheap Edition. This book on its first publication was an instant success, being commended "by J. B. Priestley, Hugh Walpole, and many of the leading critics; it was recommended by the Book Society and sold in numbers equalling the author's previous Best Seller "Greenbanks."
"P. C. Wren's brilliant adventure story "Sinbad The Soldier" telling of the journey to Mecca and the exploits of his hero in the retinue of a Moroccan Kaid; and "Red Lillac," Lord Gorell's highly entertaining murder mystery, were published by John Murray issued in his 2s. Fiction Library another of P. C. Wren's stories "Beggars' Horses."
A highly successful book of Fleet Street reminiscences published about two years ago was Mr. James Milne's "Memoirs of a Bookman." It was recently issued in a Cheap Edition on August 18th, by John Murray and should certainly repeat its original success.

GENERALS RECEIVE SEALS OF OFFICE

Appointments Accepted

Canton, September 12.

The Kwangsi delegates having returned to Nanking and delivered the seals of office to Generals Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi, peace may now be considered as settled.

It is reported that immediately after receiving their seals of office and letters of appointment, together with a personal letter from Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, Generals Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi, besides approving of the contents of Marshal Chiang's letter, called a meeting of all the important military and civil officials, when General Liu Wai-chang and General Tang Shih-tseng informed those present of the result of the negotiations.

All present expressed satisfaction with the terms and conditions of the Central Government and the contents of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek's letter, particularly when it was known that the Central Government had decided not to disband or reduce the strength of the Kwangsi military forces, or transfer or replace any of the military affairs.

Owing to the satisfactory result of the meeting, General Tang Shih-tseng has decided to return to Canton to-day.

It is reported that Generals Ching, Chen and Wang will fly to Nanking to see General Pei Chung-hsi as soon as General Tang Shih-tseng returns, and urge him to assume the duties of his new office.

So far, the troops of the Nineteenth Route Army have not retired from the Pakhoi, Lin Kong and Hop Po districts of South West Kwangtung, and General Yu Han-mow has telegraphed to Generals Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi requesting them to order the immediate withdrawal of General Yung's troops, so that they may be replaced by the troops of Commander Tam Shan of the 158th Division.

PENSIONS SCHEME

Benefits For Local Police Officers

Provision is being made under the police pensions regulations for the grant of pensions or other allowances to certain members of the Police Force who may voluntarily retire before the completion of their retiring age. This is being effected by a proviso to be added to Regulation 8, reading as follows:

"Provided nevertheless that it shall be lawful for the Governor-in-Council to grant a pension, gratuity or other allowance, calculated according to the principles upon which pensions, gratuities and other allowances are calculated under these regulations, to any officer who, with the consent of the Governor and with the approval of the Secretary of State, has voluntarily retired before the completion of the age and service specified in paragraph (a) and not later than the 4th June, 1938."

A further addition to the general pensions regulations is made as follows:

"38. Notwithstanding anything contained in any of these regulations, where the Governor has consented, under the proviso to section 8 of the Pensions Ordinance, 1932, as amended by section 2 of the Pensions Amendment (No. 3) Ordinance, 1936, to the retirement of an officer before such officer attains the age of fifty years, or where an officer retires on the abolition of his office under section 8 (1) of the Pensions Ordinance, 1932, any previous election made or option exercised by such officer under these regulations may be revoked and remade or re-exercised as the case may be."

CORONATION PLANS

Advantages Of The Longer Route.

SEATS TO BE CHEAPER

A large number of inquiries concerning facilities and the price of seats to view the processions on the day of King-Edward's Coronation next May have been received by agencies, but bookings could not begin until the routes were announced and plans for the erection of stands could be seriously considered.

The lengthening of the route for the return to Buckingham Palace compared with that taken by King George and Queen Mary on the occasion of their Coronation in Westminster Abbey in 1911 was welcomed yesterday, not only because it will enable many more thousands of people to see the pageantry but because the provision of additional stands should lead to a revision of ideas of the charges which may be made for seats. It is understood that some of the prices asked for the letting of windows on parts of the route which seemed to be certain of inclusion have been almost prohibitively high.

The routes to be used for the processions on May 12 extend over about six miles, and the King will pass some of the largest buildings in London. It is certain that temporary stands will be erected in the Mall in the vicinity of Westminster Abbey, and along Constitution Hill, and there will probably be stands in Hyde Park which will give a good view of the procession as it passes down the East Carriage Road. Clubs in Pall Mall erected stands outside their buildings for the Jubilee procession last year, and these, it may be expected, will be provided again. Among hotels from which the return procession can be seen are the Victoria, in Northumberland Avenue, the Piccadilly, the Cumberland, at Marble Arch, and Grosvenor House and the Dorchester, in Park Lane.

TRANSPORT QUESTIONS

The gathering of the crowds may be eased by the fact that the routes are served, directly or indirectly, in a few minutes' walk, by 12 Underground stations, but it must be kept in mind that the improvement in transport facilities during the past quarter of a century has encouraged the gathering for great ceremonial occasions of multitudes such as were unknown in comparatively recent times. The size of the crowds at King George's funeral took the authorities by

TYPHOID FEVER FROM HANDSHAKE

Unsuspecting Carriers

Mr. A. H. Walters, chief technical assistant, Albert Dock Hospital, London, discussed the problem of combating typhoid at a recent sitting in Edinburgh of the conference of the Pathological and Bacteriological Laboratory Assistants' Association. Mr. A. B. Cheyne, Edinburgh, vice-president, was in the chair.

Mr. Walters exhibited a film dealing with the investigation of a ship's native crew for a typhoid carrier. Until comparatively recent times, he said, enteric fevers were responsible for more deaths among British soldiers in India than cholera. Enteric fevers also occurred in countries situated in temperate climatic zones, but were generally of a much less virulent type than those contracted in the tropics. Infection was usually transmitted in food or water, but the most dangerous source of infection was from people in the acute or convalescent stage of the disease or from carriers. The last mentioned, for reasons not yet clearly understood, could swallow enteric bacilli, but they did not suffer any ill effects. They showed no clinical symptoms or other indications to warn them of the menace they carried. Any susceptible person could become directly infected by a friendly handshake with a carrier. In the case dealt with in the film the carrier was found to be a member of the crew who was responsible for the handling of the ice which was placed into drinks.

surprise and led to considerable confusion.

District surveyors will inspect various structures which might be thought dangerous.

Visitors to London for the Coronation will come from all parts of the world, but more particularly from the Dominions and Colonies of the British Empire and from the United States. A great many applications for the reservation of rooms have already been received by the leading hotels. There will be some advance in prices for the Coronation period, but it is stated that these will not be unreasonable and that charges for rooms generally will not be more than 50 per cent. above the usual rates.

Mola About To Make Triumphant Entry

STRATEGIC POSITION CAPTURED

Government Militia Make Hurried Departure

Hendaye, September 12.

Insurgent troops under General Mola are expected to make a victorious entry into San Sebastian to-morrow. In the meanwhile four thousand Government defenders are hurriedly evacuating the city and crowding the road to Bilbao.

This morning the insurgents launched a violent attack on the Hernani and Oyarrun sectors and captured Santa Barbara, a strategic position dominating all points occupied by the Popular Front militia. The Government troops retired, whereupon insurgent aircraft bombed the outskirts of the town preliminary to infantry advance.

EXODUS TO BILBOA

The Governor of the city, Colonel Ortega, in view of the hopelessness of the situation, calmly organised evacuation of the Popular Front adherents by lorries and cargo boats to Bilbao. He was assisted by Basque nationalists who assumed the duties of auxiliary police determined to prevent Anarchists burning or pillaging the town.

At 8 p.m. Colonel Ortega was still working at his palace. He declares that he and his staff will be the last to leave.

In anticipation of a further advance of the nationalist troops after the capture of San Sebastian, several foreign consulates have already rented houses at Bilbao. All the foreign consuls except those of Belgium and Switzerland decided to leave San Sebastian immediately after the opening bombardment.

SAN SEBASTIAN ENCLOSED

Hendaye, Sept. 12.

Completely surrounded by land and expecting an insurgent attack every hour, San Sebastian has become a prey to severe internal warfare. According to refugees, a battle has started in the streets between Anarchists and Basque Nationalists.

Heavy firing by insurgent artillery is reported on the outskirts of the city, but the main attack is expected to-morrow morning upon the expiry of the ultimatum giving foreigners and civilians 48 hours to leave.

The insurgents will find that the town is denuded of money and merchandise, all of which has been commandeered and despatched to Bilbao by sea, and hence the inhabitants are in a parlous condition.

The operations against Madrid have not abated. The insurgents have routed the Government columns in the region of Talavera and have opened the way to the capital.

NON-INTERVENTION IN SPAIN

More Representations To Portugal

London, Sept. 11.

The British Government has instructed its Ambassador at Lisbon to support urgently and strongly the further representations made by the French Government to Lisbon in the hope of persuading Portugal to participate in the work of the International Committee to control the non-intervention agreement with respect to the Spanish civil war. The Committee meets again in London at 4 p.m. on Monday.

This is the fourth time within a week that Great Britain has made representations, and it is not thought that Portugal is likely to weaken her ties with France and Britain, particularly in face of the renewed German colonial demands.

However, in the event of further difficulties being insurmountable, it is unofficially suggested that the next meeting of the International Committee will have to consider applying the non-intervention agreement to the whole of the Iberian Peninsula.

A desperate battle lasting four hours ended in the withdrawal of 1,500 Militiamen, who left many dead.

The positions at San Sebastian from the south are apparently unchanged, pending the capture of Renteria and Pasajes. The General Staff deny the Madrid report that Huesca has been captured, and state that the Government lines are still 10 miles from the town.

GENERAL MOLA

FRANCO-POLISH AGREEMENT

Explanation By Polish Newspapers

Warsaw, Sept. 12.

The ceremonious and cordial reception accorded the General Inspector of the Polish Army, Marshal Rydz-Smigly on his return is regarded here as sign of the importance of his mission in France.

This has given rise to speculations in the press, the foreign papers also freely speculating as to the real importance of the Franco-Polish Agreement, the main feature of which seems to be the revival of the Franco-Polish Military Convention.

The Polish newspapers, whose utterances hitherto have been taken as officially inspired, emphatically state that the agreement with France is decidedly bilateral, and the agreement is not the repudiation but merely another confirmation of Poland's policy to reject collective agreements, a theory which was invented by Litvinov.

Among the papers to present the situation in this light is "Gazeta Polska" which states that the news broadcast by the French Agency "Mitropa" that Poland had consented to Soviet planes crossing Polish territory is "purest invention."

The agreement between Poland and France is exclusively bilateral, and was entered into by both countries under this express understanding, the paper concludes.

Success Of German Measures

(Hong Kong Daily Press) Special

Nuremberg, Sept. 12.

Drastic measures introduced by the Nazi Government to stamp out crime have had highly satisfactory results, declared Reich Minister without portfolio, Dr. Frank, in an address at the Nazi Party Congress in Nuremberg on Saturday.

The Minister pointed out that particularly "preventive custody," which allows permanent detention of habitual criminals, has done a great deal to render dangerous enemies of society harmless.

The total number of convictions throughout Germany decreased from 558,000 in 1932 to 310,000 in 1935, according to the Minister, while the number of compulsory emasculation of habitual sexual offenders fell from 872 in 1934 to 324 in 1935, and 120 in the first six months of 1936.

The Minister concluded his address by contrasting Germany's successes in fighting crime with conditions prevailing in Soviet Russia, where criminality, particularly among juveniles, was increasing alarmingly.

OVALTINE for Endurance and the Will-to-Win

'OVALTINE' CUP HONGKONG POLICE SPORTS.

We reproduce the 'Ovaltine' Cup competed for at the Hong Kong Police Aquatic Sports held last Saturday.

THE WINNING TEAM: The Team Race for the 'Ovaltine' Cup was won by Messrs. Hsiehshun, Mackenzie, Bowers and Hayward, The Hong Kong Police team.

Remember, there is MORE in Ovaltine—more in Health-giving ingredients—more in Quality—more in Value.

Swimming! . . . As an exacting test of physical fitness, long-sustained effort, stamina and endurance, there is nothing like it.

And for building up the powers of endurance, there is nothing like 'Ovaltine'. Many memorable achievements of recent years have proved the supreme sustaining properties of delicious 'Ovaltine'. In 1923 and again in 1936 'Ovaltine' was the food beverage chosen by the Mount Everest Expedition.

Famous swimmers, explorers, record-breaking fliers and Olympic athletes have acknowledged the great help which 'Ovaltine' have given them.

'Ovaltine' is a scientifically perfect food made from the highest qualities of malt, milk and eggs. No other food beverage conveys such a wealth of nourishment so quickly to body, brain and nerves. For quality and value 'Ovaltine' definitely stands in a class by itself.

MACAO RACE MEETING SUCCESS

GOOD WEATHER AND KEEN SPORT

Handsome Dividend In Third Race

It is hard to imagine a more perfect day for the racegoers who attended the Macao Race Meeting yesterday. The Macao Steamship put on the Kinshan, but Hong Kong with the assistance of Manila seems to have blossomed out again and the result was a full ship.

We hope that for the next meeting, if matters are as rosy as they are now, the Tal Shan will be put in the festive run. There is no doubt that the Hong Kong racegoers at Macao believe in no half measures and it is an unusual matter that in practically every race the totalisator tickets taken for a win were some 80 per cent. higher than those taken for a place. Judea in the 3rd Race who was third paid the handsome sum of $42 for a $5 bet.

The turf was in excellent condition and the going very good. Damage done by the typhoon had all been repaired and the track was in fine shape for the meeting.

The Racing was good and the fields were a great improvement on the last few meetings.

The big sweep with $1,276 for the winner was the reason of the great interest in the 4th race which was won by Mr. G. H. Potts' Brown Eve. In connection with this the following notice was posted up: "Special Sweep prizes will be paid in the Hong Kong office on Monday, September 14, 1936." So will the lucky winners step up there please.

The Ladies' race attracted a lot of attention as usual, the St. George's Riding School having a closed race to themselves. Might we suggest that for the next Macao Meeting they include a Ladies Race but let it be an open event.

Everybody was very pleased to see Mr. G. H. Potts back, having returned a few days ago by the Empress of Canada.

Most of the old racegoers were there but we missed Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, of Loxley's, Commander and Mrs. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Charles, and Gilbert and Babe Harriman.

A careful perusal of the tips in the "Hong Kong Daily Press" last Saturday would have considerably enhanced one's winning. The best tip of the day was Judea for a place in the 3rd Race, the totalisator paid $42 which was the highest of the day.

Colony Aquatic Stars To Compete

CHAMPIONSHIPS START TO-MORROW

Beginning to-morrow at 6 p.m., the Colony will have the opportunity of witnessing the 1936 Swimming Championships which are being held at the Victoria Recreation Club.

Wilfred Lawrence, Norman Lee, Cpl. McCarthy, H. L. Ozorio, Rtm. Hamilton, Lau Po-hel, Lt. A. J. Lewis, and F. V. Read will be in attendance during the meet, and some exciting events should be seen.

The classic event on to-morrow's programme is the 100 yards free style championship which will see Lawrence (holder) Norman Lee, H. L. Ozorio, Wong Chi-tong, and Riffman Hamilton in keen rivalry for the title.

The heats for the 220 yards free style open relay will be held to-day at 6 p.m.

There was a good start to a field of six. Victory Life was the first to show up to and then Shih Yin Grand and Shanghai 4. The latter managed to win a good race by a head and a head between second and third. Shih Yin Grand's jockey broke a stirrup leather when pulling up and took rather a nasty toss.

Keen Competition Witnessed

The keenness with which swimming is regarded in the Hong Kong Police Force was exemplified on Saturday at the V.R.C. by the numerous competitors for the annual sports. The standard of the swimming was not exceptionally high but nevertheless there were some very keen finishes.

FOOTBALL SEASON GETS UNDER WAY

MANY "HAT TRICKS" RECORDED

Good promise for the coming football season was shown by the Kowloon and Hong Kong Football Clubs on Saturday when they played the opening games of the season. Kowloon defeated the Royal Welch Fusiliers by the odd goal in five, while the Club lost to the East Lancs by the odd goal in nine. It was only in the later stages of the game that the soldiers asserted themselves and scored the winning goal.

The club forwards showed good combination, especially the inside trio, Drown, Elliot and Wilson. Fowler and Bickford on the wings were speedy and accurate. Of the intermediate line, Forrow was the best, receiving good support from Skinner and E. Strange.

Lawton for the East Lancs. was an energetic leader but the danger lay in Sandford and Griffin, who combined well throughout. Swain and Steele played with understanding and covered well. Oxford, in goal, brought off many fine saves.

Teams:
East Lancs: Oxford; Swain and Steele; Thorpe, Gorman and Crowthers; Griffin, Sandford, Lawton, Smith and Ridings.

Club: Rodger; Strange and Nicholls; Skinner, Forrow and E. Strange; Fowler, Drown, Elliot, Wilson and Bickford.

The Kowloon Football Club first eleven evened the defeat of the second eleven by defeating the Royal Welch Fusiliers on the home ground at Chatham Road on Saturday, by the score of 3-2.

M.C.C. TOUR IN AUSTRALIACaptain Confident
In Team

London, Sept. 12.
"As I am an optimist, I think we shall do much better than most people think," declared G. O. Allen, the England Test cricket captain, when interviewed as the M.C.C. team left Waterloo Station for Southampton, where they embarked on the s.s. Orion for Australia.

The large crowd of cricket enthusiasts who gathered to see the team off gave a very warm cheer for Hedley Verity, the Yorkshire all-rounder, who had recovered sufficiently from an attack of influenza to accompany the team.

There were scenes of animation and optimism as the train steamed out of the station, placards, inscribed "Good luck to our Test team," being unfurled. The president of the M.C.C., Lord Somers, Mr. P. F. Warner, chairman of the Selection Committee, and Sir Stanley Jackson were among the well-wishers at the station.—Reuter.

G. O. Allen declared at a complimentary dinner to the players last night that he had complete faith in the team.—British Wireless.

FRIENDLY HOCKEY
In a friendly hockey match played on the Marina ground on Saturday, the Royal Corps of Signals beat a Y.M.C.A. team by two goals to one. Austen and Cox were the outstanding players for the winners and scored the goals.

Brown replied for the civilians. A feature of the game was the splendid combination of the Signals. Their defence was sound, and their clearances were good.

Conquer that Weakness!
You can—with SANATOGEN

"There is abundant evidence of the value of Sanatogen as a restorative and food, and more particularly in cases of general debility."

—writes "The Lancet."

"A Great Strengthening", wrote the Hon. Sir F. A. Robertson, Judge of the Chief Court, Lahore, about Sanatogen.

Remember that these letters—and thousands similar—were written by people who, before the use of Sanatogen, were just as sceptical as you may be of its tonic effects. But they decided to try Sanatogen and they got back their health and vigour.

"Sanatogen"—as a well-known London physician puts it—"goes straight to the core of well-being, namely, the cells—and builds these up into a permanent and solid fabric of health."

Sanatogen will build up your Health lastingly. Over 25,000 physicians support this claim with their written commendation.

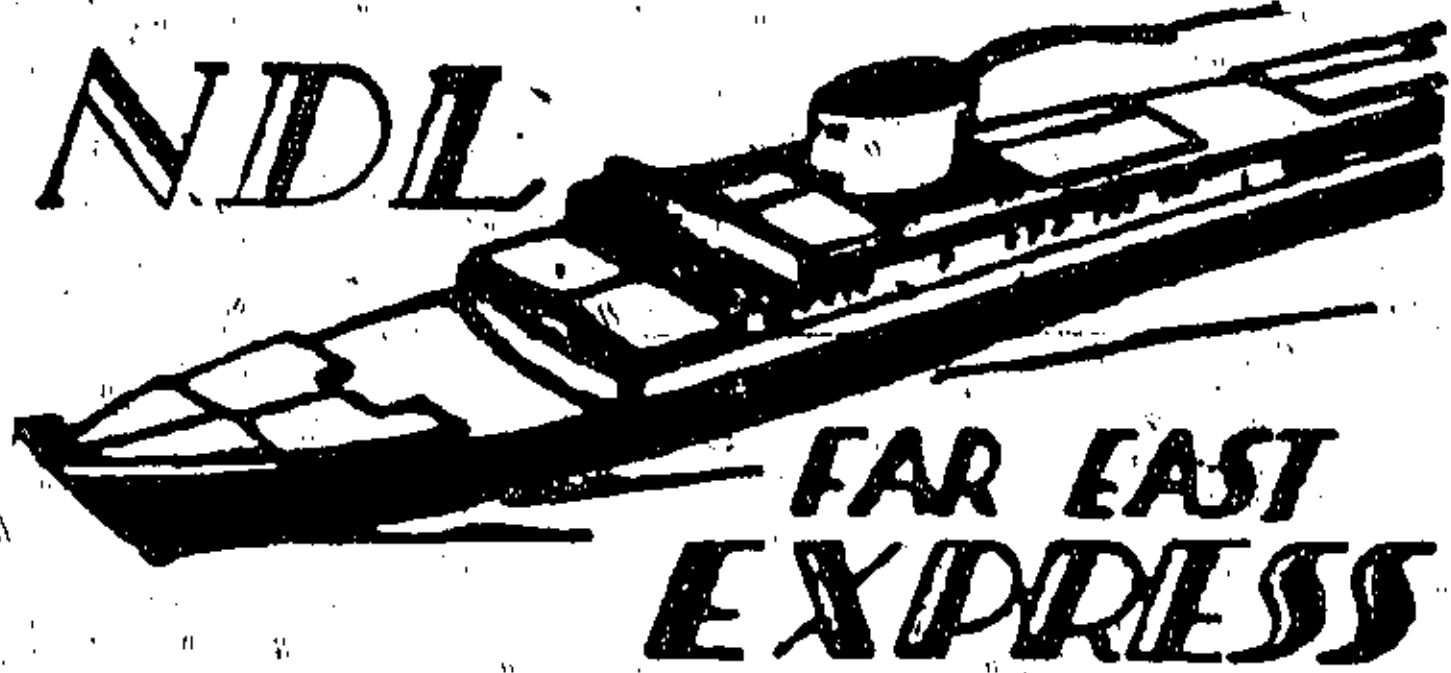

"Sanatogen gives a distinct restorative effect", writes Sir Luke White.

"My nurses and myself were very much struck with my rapid improvement with Sanatogen", writes the wife of a well-known doctor, Mrs. C. A. M. Phillips.

"A Wonder-worker" are the words in which Mr. Coulson Kernahan, the well-known author, describes Sanatogen.

SANATOGEN will always do you good and cannot possibly do harm.

THE SHARE
MARKETHarriman's Weekly
Review

Messrs. G.A. Harriman & Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon on Saturday states:-

Most active trading is to be reported during the week elapsed, with dealings evenly divided between Hongkong and Manila shares. The upward movement has continued. In practically all local stocks and shares, Utilities coming in for the lion's share of the buying attention. Hongkong Electricity changed up to 56 cum dividend, and closed with buyers bidding 54 1/2, the 1 1/2 interim just paid. China Lights were heavily bought round $12.70 and continued demand has since brought the end price up to $14. cash and $14.20 Oct. Buyers are keenly enquiring for Ferries at $2. Wharves at $108. Providents (old) at $1.95, and Telephones at $29.25. Trams have been an erratic market, swayed by rumours, first taken by active bidding up to $14.15 cash, and subsequently falling back to $12.30 but recovering sharply towards the close to $13 cash & $13.20 buyers October.

Dairies are on offer at $22 ex and Ropes over $4. Cements have been a good market up to $11.50. Small business passed in Constructions (new) at 47 cts and there are closing buyers at this rate. Entertainments are wanted at $3.25 and Vihro Piling at about $3. Hotels have reacted slightly from last week's firmness to a closing quotation of $5.00/6.00 with a fair size parcel transacted at $6.10 October. Of Sterling descriptions Banks are now $1810 and Unions $580. Hongkong Insurances are wanted at $252 with sellers at $255. The fashion in Manila shares seems to change like that for ladies' hats. First one share is supported and carried to new high levels. This is then left to remain unchanged for several days and another almost dormant stock is taken in hand and buyers rush in for shares.

Trading has again been exceptionally heavy and the average of closing quotations is considerably above that of last week. Antismokes after fairly large sales round $5.40 have climbed to $6.20. Atoks are higher at $1.23 ex rights and Big Wedge have been taken at 83 cts. Bagulo Gold had a sharp end of the week rise to 68 cts, but closed below best at 63 cts middle. Soyoces were an outstanding feature, rising 45 cents during the week. These also closed below best at $1.38. Benguet Explorations were active up to 50 cts and Demonstrations were bought up to $1.65. Consolidated Mines shipped to 9 1/2 cts, but close at 10 1/2 cts buyers. Masbate, Itogon, San Maricolas and United Paracale are all in keen demand at higher prices. At close the market is very firm all round, both in Hongkong &

SABOTAGE ON U.S. CRUISER

New York, Sept. 11.

It is revealed that a small fire broke out aboard the U.S. cruiser Indianapolis on August 25 while she was undergoing repairs in the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

The manager of yard declared that the outbreak was undoubtedly the result of a deliberate piece of sabotage, as two nails were found driven through the power cable, causing a short circuit.

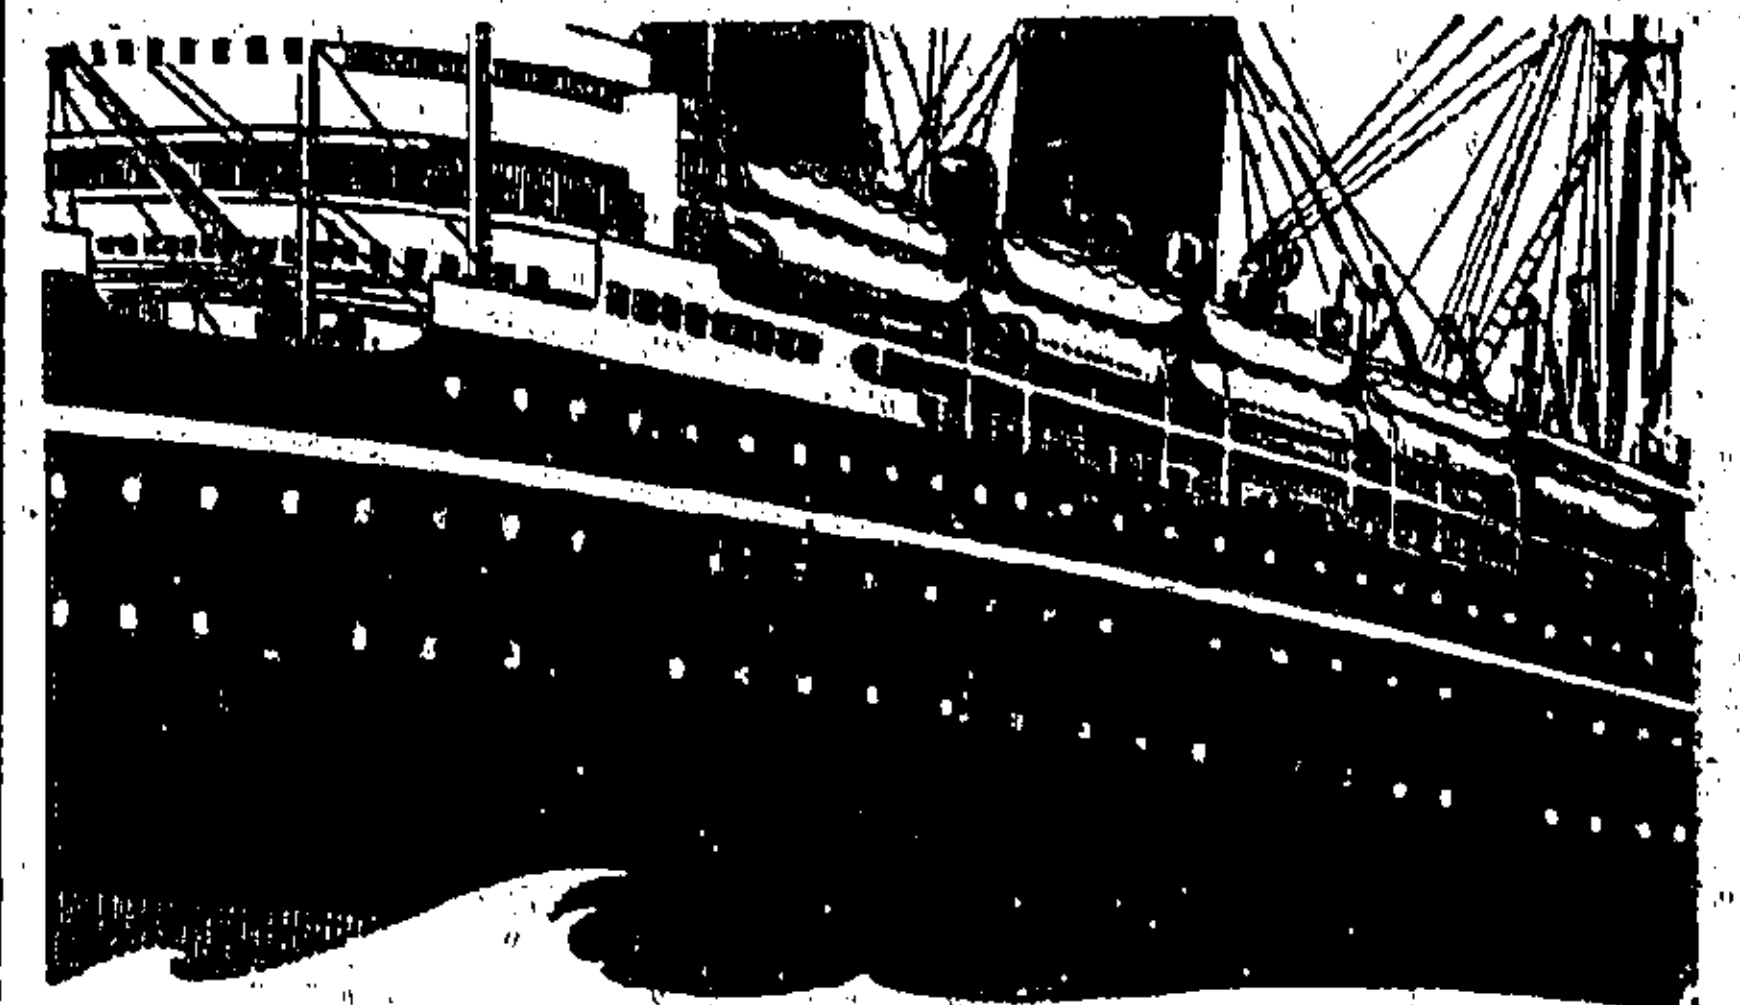

The United States Navy Department has commenced an investigation.

PLANE CRASH

Paris, Sept. 11.

A passenger plane from St. Didier des Bois crashed between that town and Deauville, three people, the pilot and two passengers, being killed.

NEWS ABOUT SERVICES

Change In Uniform Of Air Force

An amendment to the King's Regulations and Air Council Instructions provides that when an officer is embarked for passage in one of His Majesty's ships he will be furnished with a certificate showing the places to which he is proceeding and that the cost of his entertainment for the period of the voyage in the naval mess appropriate to his rank is a proper charge against R.A.F. funds.

An allowance will then be credited to the mess concerned at the following daily rates—Officers messes at the table of a flag officer, 15s.; at the table of a captain, 10s.; in the wardroom, 7s. 6d.; in the gun room, 6s.; and in the warrant officers' mess, 5s. When an officer is embarked for duty or instruction on board no certificate will be rendered, the officer paying his mess charges direct, and no allowance to meet such expenses will be made.

THE NEW UNIFORM

The changes of uniform for Royal Air Force officers have been approved and became effective on September 1. Brecces, puttees, and field boots are now obsolete, and trousers made of harratene, as at present, will be worn on all occasions. Trousers with permanent turn-ups must be worn for parade and formal purposes, although turn-ups are optional on other occasions. An additional cap, known as the field service cap, has been approved, and in future officers will possess one round peak cap and one of the new type. White shirts and collars are replaced by blue service shirts, and blue web belts may be worn in bad weather. Officers of the Reserve who are required to be in possession of a uniform will not be compelled to make these changes, although it is left to individuals at their own discretion to provide themselves with the new type uniform at their own expense or retain their existing uniform.

IRAQ APPOINTMENT

Squadron Leader J. L. M. de C. Hughes-Chamberlain has been appointed to Headquarters, Royal Air Force, Iraq, at Hinaidi, for Personnel Staff duties, with effect from July 18. Squadron Leader Hughes-Chamberlain was commissioned in September, 1914, in the 13th Battalion, The Middlesex Regiment, and after a period with the Army Cyclists Corps was attached to the Royal Flying Corps in December, 1915. He first acted as an observer but became a pilot in September, 1916, and served with No. 52 and No. 7 Squadrons in France. In 1919-21 he was a member of the Inter-Allied Commission of Control in Germany, and afterwards saw service in India. He was in the Staff of Headquarters Fighting Area from 1928 to 1931, when, after a refresher course at C.F.S., he was posted for flying duties to No. 23 Squadron and No. 33 (Bomber) Squadron. In 1934 he commanded No. 503 (Bomber) Squadron, A.A.F., at Waddington, and in March this year was posted to Hinaidi for administrative duties.

PROMOTION TO FLIGHT LIEUTENANT

An amendment to King's Regulations provides that, as a wholly exceptional and temporary measure during the period of the R.A.F. expansion, certain variations will be made in the method of promoting flying officers to flight lieutenants. While this temporary measure is in force all short service officers will be eligible for consideration for promotion to the rank of "flight lieutenant," and the normal qualifying period of four years will be reduced, with effect from April 1, 1936, to three years, and with effect from October 1, 1936, to two years. The provision regarding the passing of Promotion Examination "B" will be suspended.

ARMY NEWS

WARRANT OFFICERS' FUND

From the proceeds of Navy Week, 1935, one-quarter of the proportion allocated to officers' charities is being given to the R.N. and R.M. Warrant Officers' Benevolent Fund, this being approximately in proportion to the numbers of these officers on the active list. The amount is £227, or about the same as the grant made from this source in respect of Navy Week, 1934.

The Benevolent Fund was started in 1925 with a grant of £5,000 by the Admiralty from the residue of the Naval Prize Fund. The Duke of Kent became patron, and by donations the capital of the fund had increased to £14,343 at the end of last year. The annual report for 1935 shows that during the year 74 applications were considered and relief given to the value of £1,080 17s. 6d., an average of £14 12s. a case. The Duke of Kent presented £100 to the fund, part of the proceeds of the display of his wedding presents at St. James's Palace.

TRAVELLING CONCESSIONS

The Admiralty announce that the railway companies concerned have agreed to extend the scope of the concessions allowed to active service officers to include retired naval and Marine officers who are re-employed in a full-time capacity by the Admiralty, whether on naval pay and allowances or consolidated rates of pay, and their wives and families.

MONTH OF WAR IN SPAIN COST £125,000,000

20,000 Men Killed In Battle And Street Fighting

In its first month the civil war has cost Spain 20,000 lives. The bill for damage to property and loss of trade is put at £125,000,000.

The figures are based on reports of British United Press correspondents throughout the country. These are the details:— 8,000 killed in battle, shot after surrender, or after court-martial. 12,000 killed in street fighting, massacres and house-to-house man-hunts. 14,000 wounded in battle and in street fighting. 8,000 civil and military prisoners in gaol. 10,000 people held as "hostages."

These "hostages" are chiefly non-political and non-military people such as wealthy business men, sons and daughters of aristocratic families, priests and nuns. "Extremist" have voluntarily set fire to more than 200 churches since the start of the revolution and have willfully destroyed priceless art treasures contained in Spanish churches and convents.

BRITAIN'S "PUSH"

Mr. Eden's return to the Foreign Office yesterday, coincided with what is regarded as the whole as a rather encouraging improvement in the international situation as far as non-intervention in Spain is concerned.

As deaths and destruction increase, Britain is urging the need for speedy agreement on the French suggestions for neutrality, and this view is being conveyed to Signor Mussolini, who is not in Rome at present. Last night the Belgian Government decided to allow only under licence the export of aeroplanes, and the transport of all kinds of war material.

"POISON GAS"

Allegations that Government forces are using poison gas, in violation of international law, were made by the rebels yesterday, and it is reported that protests will be lodged at Geneva. Discontented because they had not been fully paid, Moorish troops in La Linea, brought over by the rebels have been given permission to loot when engaged in "mopping up" operations in the small villages of the region.

San Sebastian was again shelled by the rebel warship, Espana yesterday afternoon. Many casualties are reported.

TROOPS LEAVE SOUTHAMPTON

Expeditionary Force For Palestine

London, Sept. 12. Singing old war-time songs, the first troops of the new Palestine expeditionary force embarked at Southampton on the troopship Dorsetshire.

The troops comprised the second battalion Northumberland Fusiliers, Royal Irish Rifles and two companies of Royal Engineers, totalling altogether 1,500 officers and men.

The majority of the troops are young soldiers, but a few old stagers wore the 1914/1915 Star. "A" looked smart and fit. They were gay and light-hearted as they scrambled out of the troop trains. Many young soldiers carried ukuleles, banjos and cornets. Many young soldiers travelled to Southampton and there were affecting scenes as the troops were saying a final farewell.

COLONY FINANCE

Financial returns for the half year ended June 30 last show that the Colony's credit balance on that date was $12,838,826, compared with $13,112,976 at the end of May. Revenue for the half year totals $14,398,799, against $14,428,846 for the corresponding period last year, on an estimate for the whole year of $28,671,845. Expenditure for the six months was $13,950,641, against $13,287,671 for the same period in 1935, on an estimate for the whole year of $28,598,148.

IMPRESSIONS AT NUREMBERG

The imposing demonstration by the National Socialist Labour Service at the Party Rally in Nuremberg, created a great impression here.

The special correspondent of the "Figaro" writes: "If I were to describe the march past of the labour service as fabulous and incredible, it would not approach doing justice to the spectacle which I witnessed."

The correspondent continues that it was the most extraordinary spectacle conceivable and that "the entire soul of National Socialism was incorporated therein."

The right-wing paper "Le Jour" writes of a "miracle of discipline" and "almost superhuman beauty."

The "Petit Parisien" correspondent states that the demonstration presented a truly royal spectacle.

"Le Journal" says that "the entire German Youth, which hitherto wandered about blindfolded has suddenly recovered its national feeling and fortifies itself in this school of the nations."
